Swiss ITongue team speaking

December 2013 « Our first term report »

The first meeting, which took place near Stuttgart, allowed us to meet our partners. It was a unique European flavored experience and we are definitely happy to have met such interesting people from all over Europe. We are sure that we will do wonderful work together. We were lucky to experience German culture : hot baths in Bad Urach, a guided tour from Schondorf (the city of Gottlieb Daimler, the gas engine inventor) and also a threatening ghost tour of Stuttgart. What an inspiration !

And also work ! We were introduced to neurodidactic research and neurodidactic decoding. We learned how to create neurodidactic audiofiles. We also learned using Audacity, an open source audio editing program. And you know what ? If you want to have a taste, we even have tutorials available into French, so that other people can learn how to use it and become more familiar with audio edition ! We are also on the way to translate the manual on neurodidactic methodology produced by our German partner. So, be patient, the French version will soon be released and will allow you to dive into audio decoding soon! Moreover we will soon be fully equiped with sound hardware, especially nice microphones to capture our voices for audio decoding. Our voices are worth it, for sure.

So on, Swiss team specific tasks, apart from the above mentioned ones, have been to create a Feecebook page so that our project can spread on social networks. You can join us here. We also translated several text samples into French such as a dictionary for greetings which will soon be available in all partner languages and ready to use for audio decoding. We are sure that it will help the next Erasmus+ partnerships to understand themselves easily !

I am sure we forgot to share many things with you but no doubt it will appear on our next report !
